

2010 Spring Rendezvous at Cowichan Bay

This was another successful rendezvous! The weather was variable as usual for spring on the west coast: some sun, some wind, and some showers. On Saturday evening, it was cool and sprinkled a bit, but we were able to enjoy visiting and feasting without getting wet. The pot luck dinner was superb - plenty of food and an excellent variety.

After we had enjoyed the pot luck feast, there was some discussion about sharing recipes for some of the excellent offerings. There was a suggestion that we label our contributions so that we could perhaps get recipes for some of the exceptional dishes. Another suggestion was that we have a competition for the best appetizer, best entrée and best dessert. Others thought that perhaps we could offer our recipes to be made into a WWBA Pot Luck Cook Book – with a stipulation that shared recipes not be made for the pot luck at WWBA rendezvous by anyone other than the contributor of the recipe. It was finally decided that recipes could be put on the forum. Loretta even offered a prize that could be won – anyone that submitted a recipe would be entered in a draw for the “cook’s cup”.

The sailpast on Sunday morning went well with “C-Buster” leading the way.

Thanks to everyone that pitched in to help when it was needed. A special thanks to CBFWA for allowing us to infiltrate their docks. Also, thanks to Dave Ericksen, who while working out of town and having a brand new addition to the family, managed to bring things together for this event.

Thanks to all the WWBA members that attended with or without vessels: it’s the members that make these events so special.
